SUNLIGHT BENT, SO 1st FALL DAY EXCEEDS NIGHT

ANN ARBOR — Autumn will begin at 7:28 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 22, according to Prof. Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer.

This is when the sun will reach the equator and the day and night will be said to be of equal length. Actually, this is not strictly true.

According to Prof. Losh, the atmosphere causes the sunlight to be bent and the sun appears "lifted" and visible before coming over the horizon and after setting. As a result, the daylight is increased by a few minutes.

The day and the night will not appear equal until Sept. 23. At that time, the increase in darkness will balance the atmospheric effect and the day and night will appear equal. From then on, the day's length will steadily grow shorter.

While Sept. 22 marks the beginning of autumn in the northern hemisphere, it is the start of spring in the southern half of the globe.

Good as Gold

After World War I, Germany went through a lot of inflation which became classic in the annals of monetary catastrophes. The value of currency declined so fast that a paycheck one day became virtually worthless the next day. The German on has been held up time after time as the upshot of governmental fiscal irresponsibility. There are those who have viewed the experience as a warning of what could happen to the U.S. and other countries that pursue policies of deficit spending and "controlled" inflation.

Apparently Germany never forgot the grim of monetary collapse. The Wall Street Journal feature article by staff reporter Ray Vick describes how the German people save where nations spend lavishly. German workers delay their money and are reluctant to seek increases. German manufacturers cut prices. Manufacturers in other nations are forced to them. Thrift and fiscal responsibility are upper in the minds of German citizens.

Mr. Vick reports that a union economist said that inflation is a danger that must be avoided at all costs. Another official says of German trade unions, "They want no part of inflation. This attitude is one of the keys to the strength of the mark." He said of the mark that it is "as good as gold." Currencies of the world including the U.S. dollar walk in such distinguished company.

Mrs. Leo Gannon of Gaylord visited at the home of her brother, Leland Smock and family, the fore part of the week.

Miss Sylvia Bldvia has gone to Detroit to remain indefinitely, leaving the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Wythe are moving into the Richard Babbitt house near the baseball grounds.

Don't get all "het up" with wrath when passed up in the dust by a spluttering jitney, fellow pedestrian; there will be more along. Reports are that Henry Ford is turning out 4,000 new ones every day. And from the same report we learn that Henry needs money; as his net profits for June were only $20,000,000 and that his bank account is getting down close to an over-draft, showing on July 1 the mealy cash balance of only $260,000,000.

Miss Carmen Lee Duncan and William Thomas Algure Jr., exchanged wedding vows at St. Michael's Church in Roscommon at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Aug. 23. The young people are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duncan of Roscommon and Mr. and Mrs. William T. Algure of Flint. Rev. Fr. John Hoogterp performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Carmen wore a full-length empire styled gown of moire taffeta and short veil held by a wide bow. Her flowers were white daisies.

Maid of Honor was Ann Louise Algure, sister of the groom. She was attired in a full-length empire styled gown with embroidered green and yellow daisies over all, worn with matching headpiece. A matching bouquet completed her costume. Serving as best man was Andrew Algure, brother of the groom. Ushers were Tom Duncan of Coleman, brother of the bride and Bill Coulter of Roscommon.

For her daughter's wedding dress, while Mrs. Algure wore champagne silk shantung. Both mothers wore "cymbidium" orchids.

A reception was held at Dunk's Inn immediately after the ceremony, after which the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Maine. A brown wool dress was the bride's going-away attire.

Those attending the wedding were from Columbus and Newark, Ohio, Bingham, Maine, Saginaw, Coloma, Highland Park, Midland, Alma, Flint and Detroit.

Consumers Names
PLANT SUPT.

Russell B. DeWitt, 44, of Petoskey, has been named generating plant superintendent at Consumers Power Company's planned Midland Nuclear Plant.

He had been generating plant superintendent at the Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant, near Charlevoix, since April 1968, and previously had served as assistant superintendent from the time the plant was in the design stages.

DeWitt is succeeded at Big Rock Point by Cyril J. Hartman, Jr., who had been assistant superintendent. Harry R. Wall, senior vice president, said the appointment is effective immediately.

DeWitt is assigned to the corporate headquarters in Jackson where he will be involved with personnel selection and various licenses in the early stages of the planning for the multimillion dollar Midland facility. The twin-reactor, dual purpose plant will be an important power supplier for the Michigan Power Pool. In addition, it will provide quantities of process steam and electricity for The Dow Chemical Company at Midland.

CAMP AU SABLE ACTIVITIES

During August of 1968 there were over 1,000 guests and campers at Camp AuSable. This is the largest number of people to use the facilities of the camp during any one month since the camp began back in 1949. At one time during the month there were nearly 300 people camping in tents, trailers, campers, cabins and using the dormitory, staff building and medical building.

September is a full month for weekend groups. Last weekend 135 were at the camp from Detroit. Next weekend families will come from Pontiac. The third weekend will be a double feature when Battle Creek young married couples occupy the buildings and junior Pathfinders have a camporee and live in tents. On Saturday, the 28th, Seventh-Day Adventists from the upper section of the lower peninsula are scheduled to occupy the camp.

Hiking on Saturday afternoon and a canoe trip on Sunday are two of the special features for weekend campers. The camp manager Harold Jewkes and wife Glenna take groups for hikes on trails making frequent stops along the way to observe the trees, ferns, mosses, birds, and animals. Recent animal visitors have been beavers that have cut down several trees. The canoe trips down the AuSable River are always a thrilling adventure. Many of the folk go to Stephens bridge landing while others prefer to stop at Louie's landing.

A new trail is being developed on the west side of the lake. This will be called the Sunset Trail. A bridge has been built over one of the small streams making it possible to cross over easily and reach new territory for hiking. One objective is to develop trails that have markers along paths which would help individuals or small groups go on a hike without a guide. A brochure listing items of interest along trails will be made and available for nature lovers.

CARD OF THANKS

Sincere thanks to doctors, nurses and hospital staff for the wonderful care I received while a patient at Mercy Hospital, also to neighbors and friends for visits, cards and letters.

Northern Michigan Weather Forecasting

Weekly Weather Report by Chris Conry
Wednesday, Sept. 11 - Sunday, Sept. 15

Cool weather is in prospect; this week. Rain will fall much of the time.

Temperatures will warm up to near 70 Wednesday, but an increasing cloudiness may bring rain by evening. Rain will fall Thursday keeping the temperatures near 60. A clearing will probably come early Friday, and clear, dry and cool conditions will return. The high will only be around 60. Frost may form Friday night. Temperatures will warm up slightly under sunny skies Saturday. The high will be in the mid-60's. Increasing cloudiness and slightly warmer is the outlook for Sunday, with a chance of showers by evening.

Temperatures for the next five days will average 3 to 6 degrees below the normal high of 70 and normal low of 45.

Precipitation will total 1/2 to 3/4 inch.

Any fraternal lodge can only be as great as its members make it. We have the potential of being one of the greatest Moose Lodges in the country. At one time not so long ago, you could hear Grayling mentioned and complimented at any district or state meeting, even by members of the supreme lodge. This not only helps our lodge, but is also good publicity for our community.

Don't forget to vote in the special election.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Doroh attended the Barker reunion Sunday at the home of Ken and Dorothy Tweedy near Marlon.

Puzzle No. 1038

WASHINGTON AND Small Business
BY C. WILSON HARDE

Democratic Don Quixotes

It would be unfair to compare the Federal Trade Commission with Don Quixote. Unfair to Quixote, that is, because while this worthy was off tilting at windmills, the facts are there. One is that no one so far has taken the position that cigarette smoking is beneficial to health. As a matter of fact, from childhood the lesson is taught that smoking should be refrained from as a bad, harmful habit. In fact, there are many people living today who remember an era when smoking cigarettes was the eighth deadly sin.

But despite this strong position, people continue to smoke. In one of these perverse manifestations of human nature. Likewise, people are quite aware that driving at excessive speeds or driving while drunk, is hazardous to health, yet thousands of traffic tickets are written every year. No one, since the German philosopher Hegel speaks kindly of war, yet an average of 2,000 Americans a month are being killed in southeast Asia.

Thus for the FTC to emphasize that cigarette smoking is not too desirable is akin to restating the obvious.

But the FTC ring-around-the-rose National Federation of Independent Business.

Proper regulations on the use of cooperative advertising allowances would solve one of the major problems of independent business.

But instead of coming promptly with a supreme order the FTC prefers to tarry away time and money in order to tell people more about what they already know and what they will probably want to do. Next thing the FTC will be doing is to regulate the performance of the job supposed to do, is to issue a dorsement of the Ten Commandments.

Some 2.5 million school children are scheduled to return to Michigan classrooms this month.
Many may not attend opening day. By the last week in August about 140 school districts had not reached agreement with teachers over new contracts, according to the Michigan Education Association.
This does not mean that teachers in those districts will strike immediately. Some may; others will choose to begin teaching without contracts.
Educational programs will suffer in those districts where voters have defeated operating millage. Local school boards are in the difficult position of satisfying teacher demands and maintaining academic standards while voters refuse to authorize extra revenue.
Voters in 197 districts turned down operating millage requests this year, while 339 propositions were approved. When operating millage is defeated, school boards face an immediate problem. They must either call for another millage election or reduce expenses. Increased enrollments make cost-cutting difficult and reductions result in overcrowded classrooms, inferior programs, and loss of qualified teachers. The inconvenience to taxpayers in loss of services is often more costly than the millage.

Gen Tel to Revise Grayling Exchange

The General Telephone Company of Michigan has been authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission to revise its Grayling exchange to include two areas totaling 13 1/2 square miles, both of which are adjacent to the western rural portion of the existing exchange.

According to the application filed by General Telephone, there are now no telephone facilities in either of the two areas, neither of which has been previously assigned to a telephone exchange.

"The desire for telephone service in these areas has been expressed through requests to the company," PSC Commissioner Willis F. Ward said. "Their inclusion in the Grayling exchange fills a need of the community and this action will not affect existing rates or services provided in the exchange area," he said.

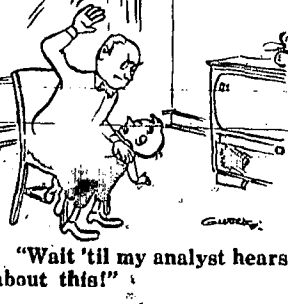

All applicants for telephone service in the two area will be provided service in the fourth quarter of 1968.

times during the year. Tentative plans call for this year's area fall conference being held at Alpena. The annual spring conference is scheduled for Boyne Mountain. The MCTE also presents the English program at the annual Schoolmasters' Day in Ann Arbor each May.

Minor is a former associate editor of the "Michigan English Teacher," the official journal of the MCTE, which contains reports of professional activities and aids, information about teaching units and techniques, as well as articles of special interest in improving English curricula in Michigan.

Each member of the MCTE is encouraged to volunteer for work on one of more than a dozen committees, such as linguistics, professional recognition, elementary programming, transformational grammar in the school, teaching in the field of preparation, or curriculum improvement projects.

Members of the MCTE are asked to actively support such projects as reduction of pupil load, for English teachers, the freedom to read, and the promotion of communication between administrators and teachers in other fields who are interested in improvement of basic skills.

The active membership controls the council, elects the officers, takes part in the business meetings, and submits suggestions to the executive committee regarding ways the council may better serve the teaching of English in Michigan.
